Dear Friends and Supporters,

In 2015, we witnessed story upon story of transformed lives, reunited families, and restored hope. You helped us re-write the futures of families, giving them the skills, knowledge, and resources they need to regain a purpose-driven foothold back in society.

We provided comprehensive solutions to support the whole individual, opening doors for those held captive by a lack of education and opportunity. With workforce training and skill development, these parents, once the most vulnerable members of our community, are now equipped to support their young families.

Thanks to your help, we revitalized distressed areas into affordable housing communities to provide stability for families who have endured unthinkable trauma. But as you know, Solutions for Change is about so much more than housing. Our 1,000 day Solutions University helped to unravel the deep physical, psychological, and emotional damage that often result from the circumstances under which these parents and children have lived.

As the new year approaches, we hold firmly to our belief that family homelessness is different than other types of homelessness, as the presence of children requires safe, drug-free housing, critical youth supports, and guided care to ensure that children are given their best chance at long-term success. And we intend to deliver on our promises to each one of our families to provide uncompromising, life-changing results.

On behalf of our team at Solutions for Change, we thank you for joining us on this journey to transform lives in North County San Diego.

Serving to Solve,

Chris and Tammy Megison
Founders, Solutions for Change
WHAT IS FAMILY HOMELESSNESS?

It’s not what you imagined... Family homelessness is a big problem in the United States. Nationwide more than 600,000 people are homeless and 40% of those people are in families with children. Solutions for Change’s mission is to permanently solve the root causes of homelessness for families.

What is Family Homelessness?
The home is sacred – a practical and spiritual shelter that sustains life, but the harsh reality is that the 2015 US Census reports that one in every 30 children go to sleep without a home of their own each night. The report notes that while progress has been made in reducing homelessness among veterans and chronically homeless individuals, no special attention has been directed toward homeless families with children, and their numbers have increased. Solutions for Change’s mission, for almost two decades, is to continue to permanently solve the root causes of homelessness for these children and their parents.

Changing the Future
Poverty and lack of affordable housing have made it nearly impossible for struggling families to prevent and overcome homelessness. The last recession and high foreclosure rates have pushed those who were on the edge, into poverty and homelessness. Addressing housing and employment are critical, but there is more to the story.

At Solutions for Change we understand that the impact of homelessness on the children, especially young children, is devastating and may lead to changes in brain architecture that can interfere with learning, emotional cognitive skills, and social relationships. The unrelenting stress experienced by the parents, many of whom are women parenting alone, may contribute to residential instability, unemployment, ineffective parenting, and poor health.

Housing is not enough to end family homelessness. Services are needed to ensure that families remain stable over time and to improve the quality of their lives. You or I would expect nothing less for our own families. We should not settle for anything less for families who experience homelessness.

Let’s Imagine...
Changing the future starts with transforming lives now. With the help of the community, we’re breaking the cycle of poverty for future generations of families.
SOLVING THROUGH INNOVATION

Solutions for Change has developed a world-class model for solving family homelessness…we’ve developed a model unlike any other to solve our nation's most misunderstood and vexing social problem. Our program equips homeless parents with leadership skills, which then leads families out of poverty and despair…and we are doing it through social enterprise.

Sustainable Impact — The Solutions for Change model is a sustainable program driven by social enterprise and accountability.

Solutions University is a 1,000-day, full engagement leadership development academy that transforms homeless dependent families into powerful community assets.

Solutions Enterprises functions as a laboratory for teaching important work values and preparing our residents for re-entry into the workforce. This is the social enterprise function; accomplishing a worthwhile social purpose while also being a functioning business. Solutions Farms raises hope, as well as produce.

Our impact makes a huge difference in the communities we serve. From Vista to Escondido, San Marcos, Oceanside and Carlsbad, Solutions for Change develops affordable housing communities that provide safe and beautiful housing.

THE LUCEROS - A Solutions for Change Family Solves Their Homelessness

“Thank you Chris and Tammy Megison, for having such a great program for families like mine to have a new start,” Larry Lucero said. “Thank you Teena and Jen, who work at the shelter for making my experience there (no matter how overwhelming it is to start there) the most comfortable and welcoming that you can make it for our families when we show up to start our new journey.”

Nancy and Larry Lucero were both employed when they first met, but like many people who come to Solutions for Change, they fell upon hard times and lost their jobs. Life spiraled downward and they hit bottom, eventually becoming homeless.

Through the years, Larry’s soft, thoughtful eyes have seen a long and hard struggle with drugs and intermittent homelessness. He grew up on the streets of Los Angeles surrounded by gangs, guns and murdered schoolmates. The choice to be in a gang is not always one that kids can make, according to Larry, who says he understands why the cycle of violence is difficult to stop. “I didn’t feel right doing the things that I was doing, but I was looking for acceptance and a family,” Larry said.

And then Larry met Nancy.

Nancy grew up in a loving, two-parent household. She went to school and church and was a happy child. She did well in her classes and worked in an office until her addictions caught up with her. She met Larry and they had two children – Larry Jr. and Leila, but then drugs came into their lives. Larry was incarcerated and Nancy realized she needed to keep her family together and become healthy again. She found out about Solutions for Change through a family member going through the same issues and arrived on the Solutions for Change doorstep with her two children. They were finally in a safe environment.

After a year of working on her life skills and physical and mental health, Nancy was moving forward and encouraging her husband to join her in her new found hope for a better life. Larry began his journey with Solutions University – our 1000-day transformational program – where he found the resources to help him with his past demons, parenting and emotional support.

Today, Larry is a positive and energetic man who is determined to establish and live a sober and productive life with his wife and children.

Nancy says she will never go back to her old life and looks forward to happily ever after with her husband and children. Today they have a much fuller and rewarding life. Both Larry and Nancy commenced from the first 500 day half-way mark in May, and they work at the same Vista company. The whole family is looking forward to a family vacation to Disneyland in December. The two hope to one day buy a home.

The Luceros are now looking at a better and brighter tomorrow thanks to the tools, resources and support from their case manager, Felicia, and all of the other great and helpful staff at Solutions for Change.
Leadership Development

Leadership Development Training is underpinned by Servant Leadership. What makes us unique is that we meet all the needs; housing, workforce training, and physical health within a framework of leadership. We turn our once homeless dependent families into powerful community assets.

Housing

Parents can’t focus on creating a future for their families when they’re worried about where their children will sleep at night. That’s why we offer more than 120 units of high-quality affordable housing. From there, families access all of the programs and services they need to thrive.

Workforce Development

Stable employment offers long-term financial stability for families at Solutions for Change. With on-the-job skills training, interview prep, and career coaching, we make sure families have everything they need to find and sustain life-changing employment.

Physical Health

Poor health can derail a family’s journey out of homelessness. For this reason, we work with area partners to provide annual check-ups and whole-family wellness services. We even include programs for exercise and nutrition, working with families to achieve their healthiest self.

Life Skills

Life-skills training is critical to long term self-sufficiency. At Solutions for Change, this curriculum includes financial literacy, parenting, leadership development, and much more. Families are equipped with skills they can rely on throughout their lives to overcome future challenges.

Mental Health

At Solutions for Change, we know that mental health is important. For this reason, we provide one-on-one counseling and mental health support, giving families the comprehensive treatment they need. Each parent is assigned a Solutions Coach that guides them throughout the program.

Youth Programs

Children in our care come to us after a period of great instability. We overcome this hardship by providing a safe and supportive environment, and by offering academic and emotional support focused on creating enriched futures for children.

TRANSFORMING LIVES IN 1,000 DAYS

At Solutions for Change, we know a full recovery from generational poverty doesn’t happen overnight. That’s why we dedicate 1,000 days and a range of resources to equip families with the skills, knowledge and resources needed to solve the root causes of their homelessness.
OUR IMPACT
As seen through The Imperative to Solve Family Homlessness

Preamble

At Solutions for Change we lead hundreds of families through a complete restoration and transformation, rebuilding lives while saving tens of millions in tax dollars, but we don’t stop there. Our Directors and Community Leadership Team step up regionally and nationally and they champion our innovative work. They do so in an effort to change the status quo on how we see and how we act on this problem.

In 2015 we launched Round 2 of our Imperative to Solve Family Homlessness. We called this effort The Imperative to Solve Family Homelessness because the futures of thousands of homeless children weigh in the balance. This is how together with you we build a sustainable and replicable model. It is a dream two decades in the making that started with a nine year old shelter girl named Jessica who simply wanted her own pillow, a home, and a chance.

Purpose

It all starts with a vision to Permanently Solve Family Homelessness One Family and One Community at a Time!

Breaking it down...

SOLVE – Means not just giving housing, not just giving food, but equipping people with the skills, knowledge and resources needed to solve why they became homeless.

FAMILY – Mission focused. We direct all (as in 100%) of our effort into parents and their children. Where others try to help all the homeless, we are laser-focused, striving to be the best at solving family homelessness.

PERMANENT – 1,000 days to some feels like a long time but our approach is “once and done”. 93% of the families who graduate our Solutions University never see homelessness again and we do that at about 1/3rd the cost of government programs.

The Three Pillars Of Our Model

Promises

Solutions for Change made a purposeful commitment to help more families. Strategies focused on growing service to families, extending our reach to veterans and other underrepresented communities. A number of champion stakeholders made this possible. In every program, and every community, we are seeing results. Lives truly are being transformed, all thanks to the generosity of our donors and the tireless work of our board, employees, and volunteers.

Our commitment is our promise.

In 2015:
• We began construction on Solutions Farms, an expansion which will facilitate the production of 120,000 pounds of produce annually.
• We streamlined our programs.
• We developed measures that helped 500 more children grow up healthy, educated and with the assurance that they have warm bed to sleep in at night.
• We honored our American heroes during “An Evening to Remember,” raising more than $1.1 million to help solve family homelessness.

Financial Philosophy

Solutions for Change has, from its inception, pursued a path of fiscal prudence that is reflected in our current financial position and stability. We derive income from a wide range of sources, including individual and business donors, foundation grants, special events, rental income, social enterprise efforts, and federal and state grants. This diversification minimizes risk because we are not heavily dependent on any specific revenue stream or any specific donor. We have a solid portfolio of real estate, and an ever-expanding corps of private donors who share our strong commitment to helping families permanently solve their homelessness.

Our goal is to operate “lean” and be careful stewards of each dollar given in support of our efforts, while at the same time having the personnel and programs needed to help our residents achieve their goals and permanently end their homelessness.
